The Years in Pictures showcases some of the best work done by student-photojournalists that have attended Syracuse University over the past four years. Most of the images in this section have graced the pages of The Daily Orange, The Onondagan and The Student Voice. Some are published here for the first time.

Together, they are a collection of powerful moments in time as recorded by our fellow students. They show what was, so that as we move on, we know where we once were.
